
NEW RELEASE: VISUAL ARTS BOOK "NADIA RUSS, FACES: 1989-1996, MOSCOW"

BY CRISTINA M

New Release:

A book "Nadia Russ, Faces: 1989-1996, Moscow" includes 59 artworks collection first published in 1996, in Moscow, Russia (only 1000 copies); and now re-printed by NeoPopRealism PRESS in the United States. This book includes Nadia Russ (aka Nadejda Maloletneva) artworks on canvas and paper and written, as previous publication, in English with Russian translation. The most images - paintings and drawings - featured in this book are in color. These works of art created in 1989-1996, in Moscow, with a few works exclusion, which were made in the USA, during Nadia Russ' 1st visit of NYC. The artwork collection includes artist's experiments in Abstract, Surrealism, and mixed media, and of course her first NeoPopRealism artworks. With this account which is now available widely to the public, art enthusiast will learn about the artist's creativity, which reflects her personal and social life in 1989-1996. Back cover features first version of artist's famous artwork "Queen of Magic," made in 1995 in Moscow.

Publisher: NeoPopRealism PRESS (August 25, 2011)

Language: English with Russian translation

ISBN-10: 0615530508

ISBN-13: 978-0615530505

Buy this book at Amazon.com

Posted by Cristina M on 10/28/11

Tags: traditional, mixed-media, conceptual, pop, surrealism, figurative, modern